MILLIONS ARE POURING INTO THE FUNDS

General Greely Is In Supreme Command And Says He Will Need More Troops Soon---New York Sends Quarter of A Million Dollars.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
San Francisco, Calif., April 24.—Following the rain that fell Sunday night and yesterday morning, which greatly intensified the misery and suffering of the homeless people, last night was one of comparative comfort and greatly improved conditions. The night was clear, warm, and balmy and there was less suffering among the thousands of refugees than at any time since the terrible disaster. The conditions of the people are constantly growing better, and the distribution of provisions and shelter are daily being more systematically and comfortably arranged.

More Holidays
San Francisco, Calif., April 24.—Governor Stanford announced last night he will continue to proclaim legal holidays from day to day so long as the financial situation and the condition of the state is still unsettled. The arrangements for the reconstruction of a new and greater San Francisco are rapidly crystallizing. The blowing up of the ruins in the business section is now well under way. The total relief funds collected up to date is $8,470,384.

They were temporarily buried in Lombard Bay street, Washington square, and Portsmouth square. In the Valencia hotel fourteen bodies were recovered and fifty-six others are believed to have perished in the ruins.

RELATIVE TOLD OF HIS ESCAPE

BROTHER OF MRS. R. C. DENISON
IN THE CITY.

HE WAS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Two Aunts Fled With Him—Described Scenes On Memorable Day—Saw Fires Consume Frisco.

E. A. Kendrick of Buffalo, a traveling representative of the Buffalo Express job printing department, arrived in the city last evening from San Francisco to relate to his sister, Mrs. Robert C. Denison, the experiences of himself and other relatives during the earthquake and fire devastation in the Pacific metropolis. He did not reach here until late and left again early this morning, but he found time to tell his own story and relate a few of the tales that he heard from others. He with two of his aunts, Mrs. Phelps Nash and Miss Ridelia Jewett, the latter principal of the girls' high school in San Francisco, and Miss Martin, a professor at Leland Stanford university, were located at the Berkshire hotel on the terrible morning. This hotel is a family hotel, at which the three ladies live and to which Mr. Kendrick had come with a friend, Horace Lee, also a traveling salesman. The Berkshire is about seven blocks from Market street and was in the district most affected by the quake. It was not destroyed by the shakings but afterward burned.

Horrible But Not Frightened
Mr. Kendrick said he and Mr. Lee arrived in San Francisco last Wednesday morning at two o'clock and went directly to the hotel. Upon reaching there, they immediately fell into a sound sleep. From this they were most rudely awakened by a violent rocking, the din of falling furniture and the grinding of portions of the building. Looking at his watch he saw it was just 5:12 o'clock and the shock lasted a minute and a half. During this time the large chandelier in the center of the room swung like a pendulum, striking the ceiling on either side, while pictures fell from the wall, furniture was tipped over, and toilet articles flew from the dresser. The two men dressed hurriedly and went down stairs where they found the three women. All realized that there had been an earthquake and what course to follow. Not fearing for their lives or for the safety of their possessions at the hotel they started out to view the down town district.

On Sight-Seeing Tour.
It was very light and people, the majority but partially dressed, were hurrying through the debris-littered streets. The first building Mr. Kendrick and his party took notice of was the hotel in which they were staying. The structure was of frame material held together by steel girders. It had been twisted out of shape as could be seen by the cracked box and while the floors were tilted and tilted. Mr. Kendrick said that the most sights which followed were the most awful he could imagine. One four story frame house which had stood between two taller brick structures, had been crushed down to a one story height by the falling masonry from either side and already bodies of men were being carried out. At another place the front wall of a better class six-story lodging house had fallen out and persons in the street could see into the front rooms, where the occupants must have awakened to find themselves high above the street and just a few feet from the edges of the floors. The St. Francis hotel, one of the newest and finest, was cracked down the middle and the walls were separated several feet in places. This building did not fall but was later destroyed by the flames. The Dewey monument, a huge masonry shaft, topped with a bronze figure, was not hurled down but was so rent and torn that it seemed to be tottering. In Chinatown sights were most unusual. Ordinarily but few women are seen. On this memorable morning hundreds, garbed in gorgeously embroidered robes, were attempting to hobble away on their deformed feet, dragging children and carrying valuables.

Military Highly Commended.
It seemed that flames started in several places almost immediately after the first shock and by the time they reached the town down district the fires were raging. Many would have been killed by the flames but for the action of the military. Before half past five the party met a company of cavalry coming down the street, keeping the crowds from dangerous regions. Hundreds were prevented from entering burning districts and no doubt numerous lives were saved by the guarding of weak spots. The action of the military was very prompt and it was scarcely no time before the troops were in complete control of the city. The populace was well cared for and protected. A throng who had commenced looting was shot down and on his body, which lay to one side of the street, was pinned a sign: "Look at this and take warning."

Some Sights.
The people, generally, were very careless but there was a noticeable absence of hysteria. All sense of conventionalities was lost however. Few people were fully dressed, while many women stood helplessly about in their night gowns, feigning to re-enter the hotels or houses from which they had fled. One traveling man, who had jumped from his bed in the Palace hotel, donned a pair of trousers over his pajamas, a pair of shoes without socks, and a coat and overcoat, ran directly for the ferry. He was aroused at 5:13 and reached the ferry slip, a score of blocks away, by 5:30. He caught a train from Oakland at 6:30 that evening, on which Mr. Kendrick met him. The man was still half-clothed and said he started running during the quakings and would not stop until he reached his home in the east.

Curious Happenings.
The actions of hundreds were most curious. One woman was seen attempting to push an upright piano up a hill. Another woman, traveling with a maid, and of wealth, was met on the train. She was without a collar, belt, etc., but refused to stop off at any place to buy new articles of dress.

Fires Spread Rapidly.
In continuing the journey about the city Mr. Kendrick and his friends saw the city hall. The masonry had been completely shaken out and only the dome, supported by steel pillars, stood high in the air. The atmosphere was very smoky by that time and the supports were invisible, making the dome appear to be suspended in mid-air. The party went to breakfast about eight o'clock. At 8:15 the second shock came and they were again driven from the hotel. Returning, Mr. Kendrick went to the roof to view the city. The fires were spreading rapidly and were approaching the Berkshire hotel in a semi-circular line. He saw it would be unsafe to remain and persuaded the three women to flee. While they were preparing he sought a drayman. Though one man with a spring wagon refused an offer of forty dollars for a trip to the ferry, he at last secured a teamster for fifteen dollars. Besides Mr. Kendrick, Mr. Lee, Mrs. Nash, Miss Jewett and Miss Martin seven ladies from the hotel were taken to the ferry. The trip had to be made by a very circuitous route. Market street and other main thoroughfares being blocked by burning buildings. The pavements over which they traveled were crinkled and cracked, while here and there in huge fissures the water from the broken mains was rushing and roaring. The last two blocks of the journey were between burning buildings. The women were out aboard the ferry and reached Oakland in safety, but leaving behind many valuables. Mr. Kendrick, like many others, not being in danger of losing his life, remained until an afternoon boat. He spent the day about the city and secured the remainder of his belongings from the hotel.

Drinks Scarce.
In the afternoon it was difficult to find water for drinking purposes, and then the people were beginning to suffer. All day the dynamiting went on and when the supply ran low the artillery was called out and explosive shells were shot into the buildings. Here again the great work of the military was shown. At five o'clock Mr. Kendrick boarded the ferry for Oakland. He says that had the people of San Francisco known that these boats could be reached by a roundabout route one hundred thousand who slept in the open that night could have been cared for across the bay. At six-thirty that evening he said farewell to his relatives and departed for the east.

Gets a Scoop.
He had secured a number of undeveloped camera films, exposed about the city after the earthquake. In some manner the Chicago American was informed of this and on the train in Illinois Mr. Kendrick was offered a thousand dollars for these views. He refused the sum and forwarded the pictures to the Buffalo Express, which

WEARING THE GRAY IN WHICH THEY BATTLED

Veterans Of The Confederate Army Throng The Crescent City Ten Thousand Strong.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New Orleans, La., April 24.—The Crescent City has hung the latch string on the outside, and put the big pot in the little one. Nearly one hundred thousand visitors within her gates and more arriving on every train; 10,000 veteran soldiers of the Confederacy as her special charge and hundreds more on their way from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Texas, Carolina, Virginia, Arkansas, Oklahoma and other parts of the south; bands of men clad in gray parading through the streets, the crash of bands and the cheers of thousands who line the thoroughfares; that is the situation in New Orleans today on the eve of the sixteenth annual reunion of the United States Confederate Veterans.

Never in the history of this city of conventions and carnivals have such elaborate preparations been made for the reception and entertainment of people from abroad as have been made for this occasion. The great mass of the visitors will have arrived by tomorrow morning, and the railroads estimate that fully 125,000 persons will be here by the time the convention opens at noon. Today's arrivals are loud in their praise of the local arrangements and it is conceded that the present reunion ever held by the organization. The convention of the United States Confederate Veterans and several auxiliary bodies will help to greatly swell the attendance.

Canal street, St. Charles street and other main thoroughfares are brilliant in flags and bunting, all the slides streets are decorated and many of the residences in the city. The old "Stars and Bars" form, as a matter of course, the prominent feature in the scheme of decorations, but the "Stars and Stripes" are also seen on every hand.

In preparing for the gathering New Orleans was compelled to erect a new hall or auditorium. A building was needed that would seat 10,000 or more, and there is no building of that size here. One, therefore, had to be erected, and this called for the expenditure of some $25,000. The place chosen for the auditorium, after much discussion, was a vacant square recently purchased by the city and including the headquarters of Andrew Jackson. Located three blocks south of Canal street, in the very heart of the city, the site of the auditorium is opposite the St. Charles hotel, which is the headquarters of the reunion. Near by is the old and historic Royal Hotel building, which is being used as barracks to accommodate many of the visiting veterans.

The parade of the veterans will take place on the last day of the reunion and will be the climax of the celebration. In Louisiana and Mississippi the public schools will give a holiday and thousands of school children will pour into the city from neighboring towns to witness what they will probably never have a chance to see again—the veterans who are left of the famous armies of Virginia and Tennessee, led by the surviving commanders, the old flag, the old uniform, and to hear "Dixie."

COL. EDWARDS HAS TUBERCULOSIS

Right Hand Man of Secretary Taft in Philippine Tariff Campaign—Ill in New Mexico.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., April 19.—Colonel Clarence R. Edwards, the chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department, the right hand man of Secretary Taft in his campaign for the reduction of the Philippine tariff, has been stricken with tuberculosis and is now at the government hospital at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, seeking a cure. It was reported a few days ago that Col. Edwards was in a very serious condition and that his life was despaired of, but Secretary Taft announces that there is nothing alarming in his condition and he feels that a careful life in the climate of Fort Bayard for two or three months will completely restore the colonel to health. Mr. Taft states that letters received by him from Col. Edwards are to the effect that he is making encouraging progress in his recovery.

The disease manifested itself only a short while before Col. Edwards was ordered to Fort Bayard by Secretary Taft. His system had been weakened by constant application to his duties as chief of the Insular Bureau, and was aggravated by neuritis of the left arm and a severe cold contracted early in the winter. Later his attending physicians discovered that a tubercular bacillus had found lodgement on one of Col. Edwards' vocal cords and immediately subjected him to the latest scientific treatment, completely localizing the disease. His physicians are confident of his recovery.

Fire Department

It is the opinion of a large majority of our citizens that certain fire stations are not suitably located. Insurance companies recommend, even demand, that number one station be moved two or three blocks further west for the reason that it is impossible for wagons at this house to travel northward on River street. In responding to every alarm coming from the first, fourth and fifth wards it is necessary for the horses to climb a hill, thereby taking the wind out of them in the first two or three blocks, and thereby greatly lengthening the time required for long runs.

This station was built in the year 1876, at which time Janesville maintained a volunteer department and was built for such a company. At that time no thought was given that the city might use horses at some future period, consequently no satisfactory conditions were taken into consideration and the result now is that this station is not a fit place for them to sleep in. These and other features cause me to recommend at this time that this council take such steps as will be necessary to purchase a suitable site and erect thereon a modern fire station, and that room be provided therein for the police department patrol wagon, and that also there be a room set apart to be used as a temporary emergency hospital, where first aid can be given to any person who may be so unfortunate as to become in need of immediate relief; and I would recommend that the present number one station be given to the street department for the storage of all tools and supplies used in this department.

Taxation

Of all the subjects I shall touch on in my message the subject of taxation to be seems to be the most important. Every citizen is directly or indirectly affected by it, and in a city like ours where the majority of the citizens own homes taxation is directly felt.

During the present year a new departure will be made by the council. The old mode of having but two assessors, one on each side of the river, will be changed, and an assessor for each ward appointed, which I think will give general satisfaction by giving quicker and better results.

New Version of an old Adage

Do You Eat For Mere Stimulation or For Real Nutrition?

In matters of money, there is an old adage that says, "It's not so much what you earn as what you save," and just so, in the question of food and health, it might be said as truly, "It's not so much what you eat as what real nourishment you get out of what you eat."

This is the secret of health, strength and vitality. No difference how much nutrition your food contains, if your system does not assimilate that nutrition—take it up and distribute it throughout your body—you gain nothing beyond a temporary stimulation by having eaten it.

Malta-Vita, best whole wheat, mixed with pure barley malt extract, thoroughly steamed and cooked and every flake baked to a crisp, is rich in nutrition and is assimilated readily even by the weakest stomach. Every one of its health-giving, strength-building elements is taken up by the system to nourish and sustain life.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat! A perfect breakfast is impossible without it, and it's just as good three times a day. Try a bowlful with cream. You never tasted anything so good.

Malta-Vita is always ready to eat. No cooking, no inconvenience. All grocers. Now 10 cents.

GROWN-UP SUCCESS

Heim-Children Present Comedy Sketch at West Side—Very Good Bill in Every Respect.

Though Dacey, Chase and Adair, a comedy sketch trio who introduce musical and artistic specialties, are the top-liners at the West Side theatre for the first three nights of this week, the success of last evening's performance was scored by the Heim children—Nellie and Willie. The two, both of tender age, are entertainers of much ability. Nellie is a good singer, while Willie is a born comedian. Their sketch was very clever and the pair was given several curtain calls. The top-liners are versatile amateurs and are worthy the place given them on the program. Kreator is a musician, his eccentricity is his instrument, and his feature act is the dispensing of popular airs from a whistling flask. Yaphank, Cecil, Larry, singing comedienne. The "Waltons," sketch artists; motion pictures and illustrated songs complete the program. The entire entertainment is without any startling feature, but is one of the best ever presented at the vanderbilt house.

Seven ballots were taken for president of the council, who acts as presiding officer in the absence of the mayor. Ald. Connell led on the first ballot with 5 votes; Ald. Merritt had 3, and Aldermen Watt and Buchholz, one each. The balloting was manipulated so that each alderman received at least one vote. On the deciding vote Ald. Merritt received 6, Ald. Connell, 3, and Ald. Sheridan, 1. On motion of Ald. Merritt the old rules were adopted and the meetings set for every alternate Monday, commencing on April 27.

Kerch City Engineer

C. V. Kerch was named as city engineer on the first ballot by a vote of 9 to 1. The temptation to cast complimentary ballots could not be resisted even in this solemn contest and one vote was cast for the representative of the Gazette at the reporters' desk.

Sennett, Street Commissioner

James Sennett was re-elected street commissioner on the first ballot. The vote was: Sennett—9, J. H. Watson—1.

Dr. Merritt, Health Officer

Dr. Walter D. Merritt was elected health officer on the second ballot by the following vote: Dr. Merritt—6, Dr. Fred Sutherland—4. The first ballot stood 5 to 5 for the two candidates.

Five Ward Assessors

The five ward assessors, who are to take the places of the two who have served heretofore, were nominated by the senior aldermen from the various wards and elected without opposition. They are:

1st Ward—David Conger.

2d Ward—J. J. Connell.

3d Ward—Charles Conrad.

4th Ward—Angus Lutz.

5th Ward—George Groth.

Grove, Janitor of City Hall.

On the sixteenth ballot W. H. Groves was elected janitor of the city hall, the vote standing: Groves, 6; Fred O'Donnell, 2; James Gillespie, 2.

George Phillips was in the balloting until the fifth ballot and then reappeared with 4 votes in the eleventh. Ald. Merritt was re-appointed to succeed himself as a member of the street assessment committee. The council adjourned to meet next Monday evening.

SENIORS ARE TO TRY
SHAKESPEARIAN PLAY

High School Graduating Class Will Produce "As You Like It" at Commencement.

For the first time in the history of the high school this year's senior class will produce a Shakespearian play at the commencement exercises. For several weeks past the class has been trying numerous plays with an idea of finding one suitable for production as the annual class offering at graduation. By the unanimous vote "As You Like It" was selected. Mrs. Day will have the staging and management of the production and the parts have been decided upon. In selecting a Shakespearian play this year the class remembers the success of the class of Ninety-Six when they produced "Julius Caesar" as juniors and of the productions of "The Merchant of Venice" by the class of '97 and "Hamlet" by the class of ninety-nine.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

SCENE WITH AL WILSON IN "THE GERMAN GIPSY," HERE FRIDAY.

AL. H. WILSON.

A jolly event, as well as one of artistic significance, will be the engagement of the golden-voiced singer and German dialect comedian, Al. H. Wilson, (Metz) and his clever company in a laughable comedy entitled "The German Gypsy" at the Myers Grand, Friday, April 27. Mr. Wilson's success last season is, after all, his best advertisement for the present engagement, as the audience appreciate what is genuinely artistic and deserving. In the character of the German Gypsy, Mr. Wilson's delicate humor is delightful at all times, and he can grow pathetic when occasion demands with charming tenderness. This new play tells a most interesting story and its situations are well conceived and finely executed. Mr. Sidney R.

Ellis has staged "The German Gypsy" must sumptuously, carrying the full complement of scenery, which includes some of the most handsome sets ever painted and makes a gorgeous background to the beautiful wardrobe worn by the company. The company supporting Mr. Wilson includes many names well and favorably known among whom are Thomas Hunter, Florence Slover, Lillian Rhodes and many others.

Mr. Wilson's songs are entirely new and will be heard here for the first time. They are, "Under the Harvest Moon," "The Love Trust," "No Love Like Thine," "The Girl For Me," "Gretchen," "My German Rose," "Kale Krasse," and "The Rock Road to Dublin," introducing also the character selections, the Zingara Gypsy Trio.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, April 24, 1866.—Poisoned.—One of our citizens lost a valuable cow yesterday by poison, imbibed from eating the paper which had been stripped from the wall and thrown into the yard. The animal undoubtedly ate the paper for the paste on it, and the green figure in it, which is the rank poison—was too much for her.

Children Coming.—Mr. Russell, of Boston, who was here a few weeks ago with a view of finding places for orphan children, writes a gentleman in this city that he will be here Thursday of this week, and will bring twelve or fifteen children with him. They are mostly boys from five to eighteen years of age and are represented as bright, promising lads who, under proper training, will make good and useful citizens. We are informed that these are not children of dissolute or vicious parents, but of persons intending to take any of these children will do well to keep the day of their arrival in mind. Some of the larger boys would like to go on the farms or into the workshops where they can learn a trade.

A Runaway.—Yesterday afternoon the Rev. Mr. Thompson met with an accident which will high prove a serious affair. He had made the purchase of a new horse and must needs go and prove him. He first took his family out riding and after landing them safely at home, he invited a cerial friend to a drive. All went smoothly for a while, but as they were coming near the city on Pleasant street, and just reaching the railroad tracks, some portion of the harness gave way and let the carriage off to the heels of the horse. He signified his displeasure thereat by planting his feet into the carriage and then starting to run. Both occupants were thrown out, just how, they didn't know. One of them who landed on the streets on his back, said he saw his friend performing an acrobatic feat in the air, as his body was about obeying the laws of gravitation. Fortunately neither was hurt much, though Mr. T. received some bruises, and as a consequence is somewhat lame today. The horse pursued his way down the street, bringing the carriage in contact with a lumber wagon. Whereupon he severed all connections with the carriage and was finally caught down town. Both vehicle and harness received some damage. A narrow and fortunate escape.

Women know that low prices are only possible in a store where a great volume of business is done; and they know that "volume of business" and

"volume of advertising" are closely related.

Janesville has gone automobile crazy this year.

Mayor Becker of Milwaukee has begun his work with a vim.

It will soon be time for the sweet girl graduates and the June bride.

Politics have been lost sight of in the awfulness of the quake horror.

No one seems to realize that there is a new council now handling the affairs of the city.

Now is the time to clean up your yards, and then keep them clean for the rest of the summer.

With Vesuvius and San Francisco within a comparative short time of each other, the morbid sensational news lovers have had their fill.

Even if Wisconsin does not have the sunny climate of California there is something to be satisfied for. It does not have earthquakes.

The added horrors of the awful disaster at San Francisco makes one wonder that people can go through such incidents and still live.

Tobacco and sugar beets are the staple crops of this country now and they will continue to be for many years to come if the Philippine tariff is killed.

The whole world has responded to the appeal for help for the suffering of California that shows that everything has not gone to the bow wows just yet.

Foreign cheap labor has always been the bane of the existence of the American working man. Congress should remember this, when offering ship subsidies and so forth.

Thousands of lives have been saved by the prompt work of General Funston and his soldiers in the burning city of San Francisco. Who says the army has no uses in times of peace?

If the coal miners want to show they are true Americans and the operators that they have respect for fellowmen above taking their coin, they should get together now and make peace with each other.

There is nothing that attracts a future citizen more than well kept streets and sidewalks. There are many sidewalks that need attention in the best residence portion of the city, too.

Anxiety for the passage of the railway rate bill has led the poor long suffering senate to listen to numerous talky talk on the subject.

ROOSEVELT TALKS

ON PAUL JONES

PRESIDENT AND PARTY ARE AT

ANNAPOLIS TODAY.

FIRST ADMIRAL OF AMERICA

Roosevelt Briefly Reviews the Character and Actions of the Great Sailor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Annapolis, Md., April 24.—Accompanied by a distinguished company of visitors, President Roosevelt arrived in this city at noon today to attend the interment of the remains of Paul

Jones. After luncheon the presidential party proceeded to the armory, where the ceremonies incident to the sepulchre of the remains of Admiral

John Paul Jones were held. President

Roosevelt, Ambassador Jusserand and Governor Warfield made addresses.

President Roosevelt said:

On behalf of the American people

I wish to thank our ancient ally, the great French nation, that proud and gallant nation, to whose help we owe it that John Paul Jones was able to win for the stars and stripes the victory that has given him deathless fame, and to whose courtesy we now owe it that the body of the long dead hero has been sent hither, and that to commemorate the reception of the illustrious dead a squadron of French warships has come to our shores.

The annals of the French navy are filled with the names of brave and able seamen, each of whom counted death as a mistress when the honor of his flag was at stake; and among the figures of these brave men there loom the larger shapes of those who, like Tourville, Duquesne, and the Belli de Suffren, were renowned as fleet admirals, inferior to none of any navy of their day in martial prowess.

In addition to welcoming the diplomatic and official representatives of France here present, let me also express my heartfelt acknowledgments to our former ambassador to Paris,

General Horace Porter, to whose zealous devotion we particularly owe it that the body of John Paul Jones has been brought to our shores.

When the body was thus brought over, the representatives of many different cities wrote to me, each asking that it should find its last resting place in his city. But I feel that the place of all others in which the memory of the dead hero will most surely be a living force is here in Annapolis, where year by year we turn out the midshipmen who are to officer in the future the navy, among whose members the dead man stands first.

Moreover, the future naval officers, who live within these walls, will find in the career of the man whose life we this day celebrate, not merely a subject for admiration and respect, but an object lesson to be taken into their innermost hearts. Every officer in our navy should know by heart the deeds of John Paul Jones. Every officer in our navy should feel in each fiber of his being the eager desire to emulate the energy, the professional capacity, the indomitable determination and dauntless scorn of death which marked John Paul Jones above all his fellows.

The history of our navy, like the history of our nation, only extends over a period of a century and a quarter; yet we already have many memories of pride to thrust upon us; we read and hear of what has been done by our fighting men of the sea, from

Perry and Macdonough to Farragut and Dewey. These memories include brilliant victories; and also, now and then, defeats only less honorable

FRANK NICHOLSON WRITES OF FIRE

WAS IN SAN FRANCISCO DURING EARTHQUAKE LAST WEEK.

JANESVILLE MAN'S ESCAPE

Letter Was Written on the Second Day After the Great Disaster in Oakland.

Frank Nicholson, one of the Janesville people in the awful San Francisco horror, has written to his wife just what happened to him and his experiences in the awful scenes that were enacted in the stricken city. The letter is dated Oakland, April 20, and is written from the hotel-Touraine on paper bearing the heading of the Oakland Herald. The story is graphic and is as follows:

"I was roughly awakened by finding myself on the floor nearly covered with plaster, and, by the way, I had not been rolled off the bed I was probably now be one of fatal list, as a big piece of ornamental work lay across the pillows. Onto my feet in an instant I got, but could scarcely stand. It seemed as if some great giant was trying to push and pull the great palace down. Amidst the terrible groaning and creaking of the timbers in the walls and the crying of the people, the falling of plaster, tables and glass, it did indeed seem a veritable hell. I got to the door and opened the same, and stood in the doorway to protect myself from falling plaster, believing that my time had certainly come, and even said: 'Goodbye, wife, goodbye, children, goodbye, mother.' The thing is over and I am all in. Well, the first quake lasted nearly a minute. It seemed an hour; the trembling of the building lasted longer, but it was over at last. It didn't take me long to hustle off the plaster and get into my clothes, grab my grip and two small sample grips and get out of that hell-room (and, by the way, these two sample grips containing twelve samples, all that is left of my beautiful line of samples). But I got into a bigger commotion. People were rushing to and fro crying and yelling—some without clothes, some half-clothed, some with their coats on but no pants, ladies in their night-dresses with perhaps a quilt or shawl over their shoulders, feet bare or in their stocking feet, hair streaming; some pale but quiet; others crazy with fear—rushing here and there, out of the building, in again after seeing the debris in the street. Well, I got out and made for an open square with the grip in one hand and an injured man hanging onto the other arm. The man had his ankle turned. I left him and ran to the square. I gave him ten dollars—an expression—'to go to my room' with me to get my trunk and carry it to the square. In going up the stairs he either deserted me or got lost from me; I don't know which. I think he quit. It was dark in the halls, but I got to my room, however. I wiped off the plaster, got the shoes in the trays and into the trunk and tried to get it out, but my left shoulder was so lame that I had to quit and go down again. By this time fire—a terrible fire—was raging. I got a good husky fellow for a five-dollar bill to go to my room with me, intending to roll, carry and push that sample trunk to the square. We got upstairs and trunk started when we were ordered to leave, as there was great danger. Well, we had to go. I left no trunk. I tried after that to get into the hotel, but couldn't make it. Now it was fire that was to concern us. By this time I had met a southern gentleman whom I had met before, and we staid side by side all through the affair. Market street, leading to the landing, was afire. Third street was a raging furnace; fire to the north, northeast and southeast. All we could do was to occasionally lend a helping hand to come one and keep moving where we thought was safe, and get a room, paying 35 cents in advance. We left our grip and went out in front to cool off and rest awhile before going to bed. When, of a sudden, a crowd commenced to come that way. We went across the street and saw the cause: the fire had started within a few blocks of us. Well, we went on long in getting up those stairs and getting those grips (we left the money) and out again into the moving crowd. All we could do was to move with them. This led us a way upon Jones street, over towards the hotel, and past the Fairmont hotel, up the steepest hills, so steep that some parts of the streets couldn't be used by horses. We got up so high that we could see almost the entire fire. By this time it was a terrible thing. The business district, wholesale and retail, was entirely gone and the residence districts burning. This night of horror finally spent itself and morning came and the fire was worse than ever—burn, burn, burn, as far as the eye could reach, north, east, southeast. South were flames, cruel flames, destroying homes—the poor man's home, the rich man's home. On it comes towards us, in the west, closer and closer, and comes the surging crowd, forced back by the soldiers' bayoneted trunks. This is the history of the morning. We know that the whole city is doomed and by night will practically be gone. We finally find ourselves on the beach; follow that around and get to the wharf—about four miles. By this time two more bedraggled, dirty, tired, hungry, thirsty men would be hard to find—sore, lame and limping and the day was getting hot, but we finally got on the boat and over to this place, which is full of refugees. He went on to Sacramento, and I to a cot, and now in a few minutes will start for Los Angeles. I have written the company; also telegraphed them. They may send me more samples; they may make a week to get on my feet again. I guess, by the way, I shall go to Los Angeles to the Holbeck hotel and stay there until I hear from Janesville. Could use two days about this fire."

TWO MORE ARRIVE HOME IN SAFETY

Miss Maria Hodson, and Miss Alice Long Left Frisco Night Before Disaster.

Miss Maria Hodson and Miss Alice Long, whom local relatives believed were in San Francisco at the time of the awful disaster of last Wednesday, have arrived in Janesville in safety. They left the ill-fated city on Tuesday evening last, about ten hours before the earthquake. They had been staying at a hotel directly opposite the City Hall and probably would have suffered some injury had they remained longer. The young ladies live at 105 East street.

Kent Crandall has received a letter from his brother-in-law, C. M. Burgess, who with his wife resides at Los Angeles. The epistle says that the shocks felt there were no more than tremors of the earth's surface and little damage was done.

THE ONLY JOHN L. ARRIVES IN CITY

Is Here at the Head of His Own Vaudeville Company This Evening.

John L. Sullivan, looking as hale and hearty as he did a few weeks ago, registered at the Myers Hotel this noon and greeted several friends who were waiting in the office to see him. Since his recent visit here Mr. Sullivan is at the head of his own vaudeville company and has just closed a most successful matinee was son: Last Saturday of the California given for the benefit of the California sufferers and the sum of seventy dollars was turned over to the committee in Madison as a result. Last night the company played in Watertown and Jimmy Berry, the wrestler with the company, had a bout with Rheinholt Schott that more than interested the audience. This evening Berry will meet Kid Cutler on the mat and it is expected that the contest will be eagerly watched. It is an opportunity to see good wrestling and a refined vaudeville show combined and many will doubtless avail themselves of it. The rest of the program is composed of the Falk Sisters, song and dance artists; Raffles, the greatest trained dog in the world; The Frank Sisters, bag punchers, and Miss Jessie Frank, the champion woman boxer in the world; Billy Tan, Irish comedian, in his clogs, reels, jigs and funny songs. Moving pictures of the famous McCoy and Corbett fight in New York city and a boxing contest between John L. Sullivan and Kid Cutler are also included. In Watertown last evening Sullivan was given an ovation and his appearance on the stage here in sparring costume belies the newspaper stories so prevalent the past few years that the "Grand Old Man from Boston" would never again put on boxing gloves.

FORTUNE SMILES ON NORTON'S NEW CAFE

Under the efficient management of Charles Norton, former chef under H. L. McClure and present owner, the attractive little restaurant adjoining the Myers theatre entrance is catering to a steadily increasing patronage.

"The best is good enough for us" is the motto which Manager Norton has nailed on the cupboard door and those who have sampled his sirloins, "straight-ups," coffee, and pies, agree that to live up to it a real, honest, sincere effort is being made.

Oratory As a Substitute.

RACE MEETINGS FOR JANESVILLE

INITIAL MEETING PLANNED FOR MAY 17TH AND 18TH.

COL. H. V. HORTON IN CHARGE

Gentleman, Thoroughly Acquainted with the Handling of Such Matters Leases Park.

Colonel H. V. Horton of Washington, D. C., late Monday leased the fair grounds from J. M. Bostwick for a series of matinee races during the coming summer, opening with a horse fair and race meet on May 17th and 18th. Colonel Horton is enthusiastic over the prospects and says that he is sure the affair will be a success in Janesville and that by another year the fair grounds will be equipped for a county fair.

Successful Plans.

Col. Horton has at the present time seven tracks in the south personally leased and holding racing meets, and has Beloit and Janesville already on another circuit with great probabilities of having tracks at Freeport and Rockford in addition. This would make a circuit of four cities adjacent to each other where monthly matinees could be held during the summer months and at least two meets of a week each in the spring and fall. Mr. Bostwick stated to Col. Horton that he was glad to have his fair grounds in use and that if the affair was a success and the people wanted it he would spend ten thousand dollars in fully equipping it next spring for race meets and a county fair next fall. This would mean new fencing, new buildings and other matters, giving Janesville the finest county fair grounds in the state.

Opening Dates.

On May 17th and 18th Col. Horton will open the present season with a horse show and race meet. The horse show will be conducted on the same lines as are the large open-air shows throughout the country and the prizes offered will be in the shape of silver cups. The racing will be both running, trotting and pacing for money purses. There will be special classes for local horses and special attention to local races and exhibitions. Col. Horton is a man thoroughly familiar with the business of the track and will make a success of it. He has had long experience handling similar meets and knows how to please the public. Next year he plans for race meets in the spring and fall with monthly matinees and a county fair the second week after the state fair, directly following the Elkhorn fair.

Very Enthusiastic.

Col. Horton is greeted on every hand by assurances of wishes of success and doubtless the renewal of racing in Janesville under such auspicious circumstances will be most successful. There is already talk of organizing a Gentlemen's Driving Club for the monthly matinees. The track at the fair grounds Col. Horton says, is in excellent shape and is as live as a new track, needing very little work to put it in first-class shape for racing. In the south Col. Horton leases the tracks at Knoxville, Charleston, Savannah, Thomasville, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Ocala. Horton's plans mean the placing of Janesville on the map again as center for fine racers and fine stock.

This Evening to Treasurer, Orson Smith of the Illinois Branch of the Red Cross.

With the Presbyterian church, the Janesville Machine Co., St. John's and St. Paul's German Lutheran churches, and several secret societies yet to hear from, the paid-up subscriptions for the California relief fund totaled $1,907.74 at noon today. St. Paul's congregation has raised $84, but wished to delay further action until St. John's church should have an opportunity to take up a collection. On the Rock County National bank list which included the donations of a number of the original subscribers $803 were collected. Other contributions are: First Church of Christ, Scientist, $60; First Presbyterian church, $25; Congregational church, $55.10 ($10 more on the Rock County bank list should be credited to this fund); H. S. Bicknell's list, $64.50; Choate-Hollister factory and employees, $20; J. F. Hutchinson's list, $74.50; O. S. Morse's list, $28.50; P. S. Winslow's list, $324.75; Badger State Machine Co., $4; Marzluft factory and employees, $15.30; Sanford Soverhill's list, $174.50; Janesville Barb Wire Co. employees, $25.50; St. Peter's English Lutheran church benefit, $33.50; First Baptist church, $30; Cargill Methodist church, $22.34; Rock River Machine Co. employees, $7; E. The committee consisting of Mayor Hutchinson, Rev. R. C. Denison, H. S. Bicknell, C. S. Jackson, and Sanford Soverhill, which was appointed at the meeting of citizens to take charge of the work of raising a fund, met at the Rock County bank this morning and authorized A. P. Burnham, who has kindly acted as treasurer of the fund, to forward a draft for $1,907.74 this evening to Orson Smith, treasurer of the Illinois branch of the Red Cross society and president of the Merchants Loan and Trust Co. of Chicago. Wisconsin appears to be represented by no duly organized branch of this great society and the Illinois office is the nearest at hand.

Wedding Bells Merryly Ringing These Latter Days.

Fraunfelder-McCarthy and Rahr-Eisen-schmidt Nuptial Events This Morning.

Wedding bells are ringing merrily this week. At St. Patrick's church at seven o'clock this morning the marriage of D. L. Fraunfelder and Miss Elisabeth McCarthy was solemnized by Rev. Fr. James McGinnity. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of John McCarthy, 558 Pleasant street, immediately afterwards and the happy couple took the 9:20 train for Chicago on a brief wedding trip.

The groom is a switchman in the employ of the C. & N. W. Co. The bride is well and favorably known in Janesville.

Rahr-Eisen-schmidt.

At St. Mary's Catholic church at eight o'clock this morning William Rahr and Miss Daisy Eisen-schmidt of Oshkosh were wedded by the Rev. Fr. William Goebel. Frank Sullivan was groomsmen and Elisabeth Foley, bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Miss Frances Reus. About one hundred guests sat down to a wedding breakfast served at the home of Edward Gillespie, 411 Jackson street. Among the visitors from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Neuhmiller of Oshkosh. After a swift drive through town in a coach behind which trailed old shoes and other omens of good fortune, the young couple boarded the 10:35 train for Milton Junction, expecting to take another from that point to Oshkosh. They will visit in Green Bay, Milwaukee, and Chicago before returning to their home in Janesville. The groom is employed as bartender at Philip Reus' place of business.

Two Weddings Tomorrow.

At St. Patrick's church tomorrow morning the wedding of Jasper Page of Chicago Heights and Miss Jane Erdman, daughter of Joseph Erdman, engineer on the C. & N. W., and that of James Ryan of Footville and Miss Lyons will be celebrated.

NORCROSS TOLD OF MISTAKE MADE HERE

Informed Forty Thousand Club of Madison That Factories with Small Beginnings Are Best.

Assemblyman Pliny Norcross of this city was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Madison Forty Thousand club last evening. In the course of his talk he drew a lesson from one of the mistakes made in booming Janesville, laying great emphasis upon the danger of the citizen "business builders" putting money into new factories, "big" enterprises that ask bonuses and promise vast factories for the "good of the city."

He told how a great fortune had been sunk in Janesville in building cotton factories. The best factories start small. People cannot make great industries by putting in money in stock, in bonuses, unless business ability, industry and honest management are present. The best industries start small. He said Janesville had learned this lesson. "When a man or a company comes to the city with his own money, even though it be but a little, with his own experience and with industry, and determination to succeed, that is the man to encourage and help for he will succeed and his small shop may develop into the great factory."

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

good condition except those streets on which sewers were laid, and these streets can be repaired with little trouble. Main street and East and West Milwaukee streets were bricked last year and are now in excellent condition. River street will soon be bricked and several streets in the first ward will be macadamized.

Street Sweeper.
Since last year a street sweeper has been ordered and will be in service by the first of May. I think that this will in a short time pay for itself and I would recommend that the city use its own team. An hour or two in the evening would be all that would be necessary.

The superintendent of the stone crusher is in charge now, engaged in repairing and fitting the stone crusher for use. I think the crusher can and will be run at less cost during the present season than last year.

Bridges.
The bridges are all in fair condition with the exception of Fourth avenue bridge, which will soon have to be rebuilt, and the bridge at Monterey redecked. I recommend that one year ago in my message that this one be decked with brick if possible to do it. I now renew that recommendation.

Police.
Since my message of a year ago the police have been uniformed and are now working under a system which I think is giving general satisfaction. I think I can truthfully say that we have an efficient and capable police force as any city of our size and on behalf of this department I will assure the citizens of Janesville that care and time and energy will not be spared to preserve the good order of the city and to protect the persons and property of our citizens.

Schools.
We have a system of public schools second to none in the state. This council will be called upon to make the annual grant for their maintenance. On one side you will be criticized for extravagance in making the large appropriation that will be necessary to carry on the school work. On the other hand fault will be found because it is claimed the school board is hampered for lack of funds. I believe it is the desire of all that the schools be dealt liberally with, so that they may maintain the high standard they have gained. It is important at the same time to bear in mind those who pay the taxes. The board of education should work in harmony with the common council to secure the best results with the least possible expense.

Public Library.
We have a beautiful public library, one that we may feel proud of. It is for the use of the citizens of Janesville, young and old, rich and poor. All have the same right to its use and all who can should make use of it. I believe the library board is doing all it can to furnish suitable reading matter and serve all who patronize the library.

Parks.
Our public parks are in good condition. They are a benefit and an ornament to the city and in the last few years successful efforts have been made to beautify the parks by the planting of flowers, trees and other improvements and the park committee should see that they are not neglected.

Pursuant to the charter it is the duty of this council at this meeting, if it can, to select a street commissioner and a health officer. In both departments it has been shown during the past year the importance of your duty in this respect. Both offices are of the utmost importance; the former particularly with reference to the good service and expense in caring for our public streets, the latter with reference to the health and lives of our citizens.

During the last year a great deal of important work was done on our streets, including sewer paving, macadamizing, repaving and cleaning of our streets. This work was in a general way under the supervision of the street commissioner's department, and I have already said that the work was well and efficiently done.
The epidemic during the past year shows the great importance of the department of which the health officer is at the head.
Recognizing the importance of these positions you should elect only such candidates as are best fitted for the offices.

Respectfully submitted,
J. F. HUTCHINSON, Mayor.

On Tipping the Hat.

Pittsburg Dispatch—New Yorkers still cling to the ancient custom of tipping their hats when greeting a male friend or acquaintance. It is a common sight to see a staid, prosperous looking business man as he passes an acquaintance, tipping his hat, although the other is alone and unaccompanied by a woman. It is the same after a party has been together somewhere at dinner probably, or at the theatre. You will notice that as one separates himself from the others he will say good-night or au revoir, and then tip his hat. Also, when one man is introduced to another, it is dollars to a subway ticket that he will lift his chin up. Wonder why it is? They don't do it in Pittsburg.

A FEW FACTS TO READ AND DIGEST

ALWAYS REMEMBER THIS:

LARGE ASSORTMENTS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS HAVE MADE THIS STORE FAMOUS.

Thousands of satisfied customers throughout several counties in Southern Wisconsin swear by The Big Store. Scarce things are here.

CARPETS—Where would you expect to see a stock that compares with this store's, outside of the largest cities? The same might be asked of any line we carry. If not a customer a visit will disclose a stock so complete that it makes trading a real pleasure.

Buy a Silk or Wool Dress here and we have everything in linings and trimmings to match.

Buy Curtains or Draperies, everything here to harmonize with other furnishings. Any color scheme can be carried out.

Buy Carpets, Rugs, Matting, Linoleum, one gets thoroughly reliable qualities and the very latest styles. Just think of the immense amount of money invested in order to be able to carry a stock of the proportions of this store's. Judging from results, from our constantly increasing business, our efforts in putting before the people such a stock of merchandise are appreciated. How often the remark is made: "If you can't find it at Bostwicks' there is no use looking around." The reason is plain. Do not get prejudiced by the tales of disgruntled merchants in or out of Janesville who can fight us only with their tongues, but call and be your own judge. The goods are here; the prices are right; we aim to have all customers waited on attentively, and all we can ask is a fair chance to prove to you that for a year around trading place The Big Store cannot be beaten.

Quality is the main thing. Any merchant can name a low price for trash, but where is the satisfaction in buying it.

As a rule the things that one sees advertised at too low a figure have no merit to them. The better way is to pay a fair price for a good article and, if it proves radically wrong we always stand ready to make it right.

Stick to The Big Store and you will wear diamonds bought with the money saved by buying here a good article once instead of cheap stuff several times.
